Atos Consulting with Health London Partnership

The Healthy London Partnership, supported by Atos Consulting, is delivering game-changing capability to give health professionals and patients digital access to patient records as real-time 'single versions of the truth' for anyone who is permitted to use them. Underpinned by the latest technology, this level of information-sharing across London will achieve what has never before been possible, creating the conditions for potential London-wide savings by 2022 of up to £215 million from healthcare expenditure of £10 billion.
