

MCA Awards 2018 Finalist

Young Consultant of the Year

Bharat Choragudi, Mason Advisory

Bharat is one of Mason Advisory's most in-demand consultants. That's because he has a brilliant work ethic, has built up significant IT expertise, and knows how to get on with clients – although he's not afraid to question their assumptions and challenge their thinking.

He has an incredibly strong sense of responsibility to the company and to his projects. That's seen in his commitment to working all hours, his meticulously kept project documents, and the client satisfaction responses he receives: an average that has never been below 9 out of 10 and which is 9.6 for the year to date – and he's still worried about the missing 0.4.

It's sometimes easy to forget that Bharat's going to be just 31 in December. He's made exceptional progress since joining the company, moving from Consultant, through Senior Consultant, and on to Principal in four years – a grade where most of his peers are in their forties.

He been an outstanding member of IT consulting teams for projects for some of our highest profile clients. He is currently coping with multiple time zones to support a client with bases in the Americas, the Middle East and Australia. He has advised on multi-million-pound savings initiatives for this business, having been re-engaged by its IT leadership team on a number of occasions over the last 12 months.
